J. G. PENTZ UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF SCHOOL BOARD FOR SUPERINTENDENT

Only One Other Applicant For Position as Head of the Charleroi Schools

HAS BEEN HERE TWO YEARS

Present Incumbent Has Done Much to Bring Schools Up to Their High Standard of Efficiency

With but one applicant opposing him, Prof. J. G. Pentz, the present incumbent, was unanimously re-elected superintendent of schools at a convention of the school directors of Charleroi Tuesday evening. There was little discussion of the matter preceding the vote. The applications of Prof. Pentz and of J. M. Hostetter of Avonmore were read.

Prof. Pentz's term will be for three years, as provided by law in the State of Pennsylvania. The salary was set at the same figure as it has been for the last three years, $1,700.

Prof. Pentz has been at the head of the Charleroi schools for two years, and his work has been most satisfactory to the members of the school board and the school patrons generally. During his period of service here the schools have progressed and developed until now they rank second to none in the country owing largely to progressive features instituted during his regime.

TRAINMEN LOOK FOR DEAD MAN; SEE HIM WALKING UP TRACK

After being struck by north bound passenger train No. 6 at Woods Run last night and thrown over the bank an unknown foreigner got up, got his hat and walked unconcerned away, as though nothing had happened. Meanwhile the train, which is due in Charleroi at 5:53 in the evening, stopped and trainmen and passengers hurried back to the scene of the accident. They expected to pick up the man's body in pieces, but saw him instead going up the track in the direction of his home.

A large attendance is hoped for at the business session to begin at 8 o'clock.

PUBLIC DRINKING FOUNTAIN WANTED BY THE W. C. T. U.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the residence of Dr. C. C. Wright, of McKean avenue and called to order by the president. The regular routine business was disposed of after which a temperance round table was conducted by Mrs. F. C. Stahlman, which proved very instructive as well as interesting. A committee of four ladies was appointed to confer with the "city fathers" relative to the placing of a public drinking fountain in town where any and every person may partake of pure mountain water—without money and without price.

CRUMRINE ELECTED

County Superintendent of Schools Chosen for Another Term

Prof. L. R. Crumrine of Washington was re-elected school superintendent of Washington county by a large majority at the directors' convention at the county seat Tuesday. The term is for three years. His only opponent was Charles P. McCormick, principal of the Bentleyville schools, one ballot being required to elect. The school directors unanimously voted to increase the superintendent's salary from $2,000 to $3,000 a year. Professor Crumrine is completing his first term of three years as county superintendent. The directors in a resolution endorsed County Superintendent Samuel Hamilton of Allegheny county for a place on the State Board of Education should the proposed new school code be passed by the Legislature.

President J. B. Schafer desires that every member be in attendance.

North Charleroi Takes Precaution to Prevent Rabies

As a precaution against an epidemic of rabies among the dogs of North Charleroi, a dog quarantine will be enforced according to State law this summer. The board of health will have charge of the enforcement of the law, and they will be backed by the council. The law is to the effect that all dogs not having muzzles will be killed. Monessen is now in the midst of a crusade against dogs, owing the prevalence of hydrophobia there.

GAME DECLARED A DRAW AFTER THIRD INNING

With the thermometer registering anything but balmy spring weather, and the sun not shining a bit, the Washington Avenues and the Baptists played to a tie in three and a half innings in the first Church League game Tuesday evening. The score was 8 to 8 when the contest was called on account of darkness. Urwin was on the mound for the Washington Avenues with Walsh receiving. A. Mason and Boyd twirled for the Baptists and Capt. Herbert Mason was behind the bat.

Tonight the game postponed from Monday evening will be played between the Episcopals and the Christians. A warm battle is anticipated.

ALL BOATS DOWN STREAM; QUIET ALONG THE RIVER

Things are rather quiet around the government yards at North Charleroi, with all the boats down river, and no important work going on. This week some skiffs and a flat for the Ohio river are being made. All the steamers which have headquarters at the yard are engaged on important work in the vicinity of Pittsburgh.

APRIL COAL TRADE GOOD ALONG RIVER

Report of Lock No. 4 Shows Steady Business For Month

SPECIAL SHIPMENTS MADE

Continuing good during the entire month, coal shipments totalled 15,962,000 bushels through Lock No. 4 during April. This ended one of the best periods in the coal trade for years. During the four months of this year there has been an increase over the trade of previous years for the same period.

During April 1,460 loaded craft passed down and 1,487 empties up. There were 701 lockages made down stream and 712 up. The rainfall was 4.30 inches, the biggest daily fall being on April 21, when there was half an inch of rain recorded.

The largest coal shipment of any day during April was on April 12, when 73,500 bushels passed through the lock. One shipment of a kind not often recorded at Lock No. 4 was 97,400 pit posts, brought up stream on boat bottoms, mostly consigned to Vesta mines. Sand shipments during the month totalled 134,000 bushels and gravel amounted to 51,000 bushels. During the first month of the year there was a total shipment of coal through Lock No. 4 of 70,729,000 bushels. This is an increase over a similar period for the past four years.

At a convention of the school directors of Monongahela last night, Prof. R. G. Dean was elected superintendent of schools at the same salary he has been receiving as principal of the schools there. At Washington, T. G. McCleary of Kane was elected superintendent, at the same salary Superintendent William Kirchoff received. There were 24 applicants for the latter position.

Measles Epidemic

With four new cases developed since last Saturday an epidemic of measles exists in North Charleroi. It is stated that there are from 12 to 15 cases there now, and the disease has been spreading rapidly. Quarantine cards are placed on all the houses, in which there is the disease.

CHILDREN PLACED IN THE CARE OF CHILDREN'S HOME

By order of the juvenile court the three children of Mike Dessing, aged respectively 11, 4 and 3 years, were committed to the Children's Home at Arden. Dessing, who shot and seriously wounded his wife at their home up Maple Creek last week, is a fugitive from justice, and the woman is in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela, where she is likely to remain as a patient for some time to come. The children were taken to their destination today by Constable Stabeline.

Road Bills Expected to Pass Without Much Opposition

FIGHT ON SCHOOL CODE

Interesting Time Looked For as Result of Attempt at Amendment

(Special Correspondence)
Harrisburg, May 3—Strenuous times are ahead in the final round-up of legislation at Harrisburg. While some of the "big bills" are scheduled for passage without serious opposition, such as the Sprout road bill, and possibly the bill to amend the constitution so as to issue $50,000,000 in bonds for State road improvements, others have struck a snag. The school code is arousing all sorts of opposition by the amendment providing for compulsory medical examination of all pupils both in and out of school. The initiative, referendum and recall idea for charters for big cities has been knocked "galley west," and an emasculated city charter bill has been proposed in lieu of the "Pittsburg Plan" so ardently pressed by the reform element of the Smokey City.

Two liquor bills have been advanced to the stage where the sponsors are wavering as to whether to press them to a finish and put them up to the Governor for approval. One of these is the excise bill for a commission to grant license instead of the courts in certain counties of a specified population, and the other is for the State Treasurer to grant all brewery and distilling licenses. A bill to grant a license for every 750 inhabitants was killed Tuesday in the Senate.

As usual some "snakes" are rearing their heads in the bills that are being introduced in the final wind-up. One of these is a bill to give the county treasurers a rake off in commissions on the liquor licenses granted in counties where the treasurer is not paid a regular salary. As the treasurer of Washington county is popularly supposed to receive a compensation ranging from $8,000 to $10,000 a year the increase would help out some. Another bill provides for the construction of memorial halls at county seats. This would make another draft upon county funds in addition to free bridges and Flinn roads in Washington county if the bill passes.

Governor Tener's public utilities commission bill is still delayed in committee, but is expected to be reported out tomorrow. A hard fight is in prospect for this bill, but the Governor has the moral support of the masses in regard to it, and something will likely to drop if the measure is smothered in committee or defeated in the Senate.

Selfish?

The Monongahela Times intimates that the Mail is actuated by selfish motives when it registers a kick against the county commissioners paying politics with county road improvements, and tying up the resources so that other improvements—including a free bridge at North Charleroi—would be impossible for a long time to come. Perhaps the Mail is selfish in making this contention. Its action, however, is only in accord with the accepted policy of public expenditures. The public will be taxed all the traffic will stand anyhow, and it is up to each community to get its share. In this scramble Monongahela, herself, was not exempt, as the two-in-one bridge proposition there and the Dry Run road project will testify. In these politics played an important part. Had business prudence, dictated by a desire to look after the interests of the taxpayers, as well as the voters of Monongahela, prevailed, it is not likely the commissioners would have been flim-flammed into buying a discard which had to be replaced by a completely new structure in another location almost as soon as it was acquired.

However this is not to the point. One mistake does not justify another. A certain amount of money—an abnormally large sum—is likely to be expended for public improvements in one project. It is but natural that the communities affected should look after their interests. It is a noteworthy fact that the proposed new roads that the county commissioners are asking the grand jury to approve are in sections from whence delegations came asking for the improvements. The commissioners are not breaking their necks to improve roads in sections where there has been no agitation for the same.

The proposed expenditures if made are bound to increase taxation or restrict further improvements of any magnitude. That is why Charleroi is registering a kick. A free bridge will save thousands of dollars annually to residents of Charleroi and North Charleroi, as well as to the business interests of the entire community, farmers and hucksters included,

Looking at the situation in one way it may be selfish on the part of Charleroi to object to being left out in the cold, but the community that does not fight for its rights and interests is the one that gets lost in the shuffle.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Charleroi people may yet have an opportunity to see a harem skirt in public. According to the Monessen News a pretty Roscoe school ma'am has one of these unmentionables, and as the trolley leads directly from Roscoe to Charleroi, the wearer and the garment are both likely to put in an appearance almost any evening.

It appears that one of these unmentionables was brought to Monessen more for exhibition purposes than anything else. The bifurcated garment was the object of much attention, but none of the Monessen maids could be induced to try it on, even in the privacy of the store dressing room. Finally a Belle Vernon lass mustered enough courage to give a harem exhibition to the girls in the store, but that was as far as she would go. The surprise came when the garment was finally sold to the Roscoe school ma'am, and now the public—the feminine part—is egot with curiosity as to when the bifurcated garment will make its first appearance in public.

A good story is told in Harper's Magazine of a woman who married a Seattle man and engaged the first Chinese cook.

"What's your name?" she asked.

"My name Hong Long Soo," said the Celestial.

"And I am Mrs. Harrington Richard Buckingham," said the new employer. "I am afraid I shall never be able to remember your name; it's so long. I shall call you John."

"All right," returned the China man. "Your name too long, too. I call you Charley."

When the Great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus comes to Charleroi on Saturday May 6 it will present in the morning upon the public streets an entirely new feature parade that cost $1,000,000 to build. More than half the elephants in America, 600 horses and over 1,800 people take part in it. In panoramic sequence it depicts all the real splendor of the world's kingdoms from antediluvian days on up to the fall of Rome.

A Venetian Fashion.
Fashions were no less eccentric four centuries ago than they are today. "Before the streets of Venice were paved (in the thirteenth century)," says Mr. William Bouling in "Woman in Italy," "ladies went though the mud and filth on pattens. The custom was retained, and in spite of sumptuary laws the patten became heightened until women of rank stood on false feet half a yard high in the sixteenth century. They were unable to walk without the support of one or two gentlemen or servants."

A Mighty Man.
Topham, the prince of English strong men, had knots of muscles where the armpits are in the ordinary man. He could take a bar of iron one and one-half inches in diameter and five feet long, place the middle of it over the back of his neck and then force the ends forward until they met before his face. On one occasion he called upon a village blacksmith and made of him an everlasting enemy by picking up a number of horseshoes and snapping them in two as easily as if they had been pine sticks.

Weighing the Mayor.
A mayor, particularly an English mayor, is traditionally a man of weight and substance, but there is only one municipality that insists that his honor get on the public scales and prove it. Of the thousands of quaint and curious customs surviving in "the old country" this is perhaps one of the most odd. The mayor of High Wycombe has to be weighed on Nov. 9 of each year, inauguration day, and this custom has been observed for about six centuries. The mayor elect walks at the head of a procession consisting of the councilors, the beadle and the mace bearer. He is clad in cocked hat, silk stockings, blue coat and knee breeches. Upon reaching the town hall the mayor is placed upon the scales by the head constable, and a record of his avoirdupois is solemnly made in a book kept for this purpose.—Harper's Weekly.

Climate Failed—Medicine Cured.

It has been abundantly shown that rest, fresh air, and good food, do help many persons suffering from tuberculosis. But, to be really honest, it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than arrested. Something more is needed.

Ekman's Alternative is a medicine made for the cure of Tuberculosis. It has cured this disease a great many times. Often these cures have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal, where no intelligent cure was taken of the patient, where money was scarce, and where good cooking unusual—yet cures resulted. Now we argue and urge that Ekman's Alternative should be used in every case of tuberculosis, in addition to good nourishing food, and fresh air, which we all need.

The facts—the evidence of cures that have been made—are interesting reading. A remarkable cure follows:—Weldon H. Gentlemen: Through Ekman's Alternative I have been saved from a premature grave, and feeling that I might benefit suffering humanity, I take pleasure in writing you a brief history of my sickness, which you are at liberty to use.

On December 11, 1904, I was taken with typhoid pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. On February 21st, 1905, was admitted to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1st, and arrived in Canon City June 3rd, very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that nothing could be done as my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

On the 11th of July I began taking Ekman's wonderful remedy for Consumption, it being very highly recommended. To-day I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. I have not an ache nor pain in my lungs, or well, sleep well, and never felt better.

Would be glad if every person afflicted with Tuberculosis took Ekman's cure. (Signed Affidavit) ARTHUR WEBB.

GUARDING THE KING.

Old English Methods When the Monarch Was Taken Sick.

The law raises peculiar safeguards round the person of the English sovereign in case of sickness. They are mere survivals in the present settled order of government, but at one time the opportunity which the king's incapacity afforded aspirants to the throne or treason makers to shorten his days at a minimum of risk of detection made the precautions reasonable.

"If the king be taken sick," says Coke in his "Institutes," "there ought to be a warrant issue from the privy council, addressed to certain physicians and surgeons, authorizing them to administer to the royal patient poisons, syrups, laxatives, medicines, etc. Still, none of these should be given except by consent and advice of the council, and they ought to set down in writing everything done and administered, and they should compound all drugs themselves and not intrust their preparation to any apothecary."

Coke wrote thus of precedent in the year 1610, and today the law is practically as he found it, although at the present time in practice the privy council simply hears reports of the progress of the king's malady and leaves actual treatment entirely to the physicians in direct charge of the case.—Exchange.

GIANT TREES OF JAMAICA.

They Shed Masses of Beautiful Silk Cotton Every Year.

The silk cotton trees of Jamaica are one of the most striking natural features of this beautiful island, and visitors express much curiosity concerning them. The fiber of the cotton is too short for textile uses, but its quality is delicate and fine.

The trees are most interesting in structure. They reach a height of 200 or 300 feet. It is the largest tree on the island, and the branches often overhang more than an acre of ground. Some of them are centuries old, dating back to the landing of the Spaniards. They have withstood the tropical winds of the region through the adaptation of their structure. The leaves are very few, and there are heavy masses of roots.

This giant tree flowers once a year. It bears a number of pods much the size and shape of a cucumber. These pods dry and burst, and out floats the beautiful cream colored silk cotton, covering the ground and sailing in the air for some distance. The seeds, of course, are borne on the silky filaments. This cotton is used at present only for pillows. Its use as gun cotton has been spoken of.

The trees are often felled by the native Jamaicans and hewn into canoes, which last for generations.—Christian Science Monitor.

Some Task.

The office manager turned to the new boy.

"Here, George," he said, "go into the next room and look up—collaborate." I am not quite sure about the spelling."

The boy disappeared and didn't return. The manager put the letter aside and took up some other duties. Presently he remembered the boy and went out to look for him. He found the lad studying the big dictionary with great intensity.

"What are you doing, George?" he asked.

The boy looked around.

"I forgot the word you told me, sir," he replied, "an 'I'm lookin' through the book to find it'."

The manager gasped.

"How far have you got?"

"I'm just finishing the second page, sir."

"That'll do, George." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fixing the Lesson.

Parson Saunders was a little perturbed one Sunday morning over some worldly matter, and made a mistake in the reading of the Scriptural lessons. He read the second lesson where he should have read the first. As he neared the end of his reading the parson saw that he was in error. He saw that his congregation knew he was in error. How, then, to conclude? To conclude in the orthodox way—"here endeth the second lesson"—would hardly do, as it was not the second lesson, but the first. Nor, could it, on the other hand, be called the first lesson since properly it was the second? Parson Saunders, after a moment's thought, wisely and frankly concluded:

"Here endeth the wrong lesson."—New York Press.

Very Considerate.

"I suppose, Jennie, you wouldn't want to go to the concert Wednesday in your old hat?"

"You dear thing! I couldn't possibly think of showing myself in it."

"That's what I thought, so I—"

"What?"

"Bought only one ticket to the concert."—Megendorfer Blatter.

The Aspect.

"The school board, the police board and the jail board are all in the lime-light at once for trouble."

"Yes, it certainly does seem as if our city public affairs were going by the board."—New York Journal.

The Harvest.

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny.—George D. Boardman.

True friends have no solitary joy or sorrow.—Channing.

BATHTUBS IN MEXICO.

Made of Cement. They Are a Real Luxury in a Hot Climate.

"Unless you have been in the tropics," remarked the man who had just returned from a trip to Mexico, "you can't possibly realize how great a luxury a cold bath can be. It's not that the climate is necessarily warmer than a New York summer, but the natives have worked out the problem of bathing to its ultimate conclusions. They have invented the ideal tub."

"On the great private estates in Mexico baths are in use today which were hewn out of the solid rock centuries ago by slave labor. They are located for the most part in the vicinity of running water and are fed by bamboo pipes, but in many cases they have to be filled by the old fashioned method of carrying a bucket to and from the spring."

"In the cities the so called stone baths are made of cement. The residences of all well to do people are provided with them, and they are a feature of the native hotels. They are

Russia.

Russia did not break into European history until comparatively recent times. Ruric, a Varenagian chief, seems to have been the first to establish a government, about 862. Ruric's descendants ruled amid many ups and downs till 1698, at which time the real history of the country may be said to begin. With the solitary exception of the United States of America, the progress of Russia under Peter the Great and Catherine II. is unequaled for rapidity in the history of the world.

Black Inhabitants of France.

Lying so much off the beaten track the village of Port Lesne, in the Jura department of France, is visited by few from the outside world, consequently this tiny town and its inhabitants are little known. It is not a large town, its inhabitants number about a hundred, but every one is of copper colored skin. It is due to the fact that about 150 years ago the famous negro chief, L'Ouverture, was brought from Haiti and imprisoned in Port de Joux.

His descendants, all negroes, followed him and encamped near his tomb on the little river. The encampment grew into a town, and when L'Ouverture died more than 100 of his friends decided to stay. The passing of time and intermarriages have transformed the settlement into a French village of colored folk, all of whom are enfranchised.

New Cop Can't Find Anybody Breaking Law

North Charleroi is bound to be up-to-date and there is not going to be any disorder there if it can be helped. Something of this sentiment pervaded the minds of members of council a few days ago, when they concluded inasmuch as there had been reports recently of disorders in the town, to hire a policeman. Ed. Dowell was selected for the job. Dowell has now been on four days, and the lockup is still the vacuum it used to be so far as prisoners are concerned. The next conclusion will likely be that a cop is not needed, except as a deterrent to offenders.

PIONEER CITIZEN DIES AT HOME ON CREST AVE.

His widow survives. Bura came to Charleroi when the town was being started. He was for some time a partner of John Guggie as a stone contractor and later entered business for himself. He was born in Switzerland.

J. G. PENTZ UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF SCHOOL BOARD FOR SUPERINTENDENT

Only One Other Applicant For Position as Head of the Charleroi Schools

HAS BEEN HERE TWO YEARS

Present Incumbent Has Done Much to Bring Schools Up to Their High Standard of Efficiency

With but one applicant opposing him, Prof. J. G. Pentz, the present incumbent, was unanimously re-elected superintendent of schools at a convention of the school directors of Charleroi Tuesday evening. There was little discussion of the matter preceding the vote. The applications of Prof. Pentz and of J. M. Hostetter of Avonmore were read.

Prof. Pentz's term will be for three years, as provided by law in the State of Pennsylvania. The salary was set at the same figure as it has been for the last three years, $1,700.

Prof. Pentz has been at the head of the Charleroi schools for two years, and his work has been most satisfactory to the members of the school board and the school patrons generally. During his period of service here the schools have progressed and developed until now they rank second to none in the country owing largely to progressive features instituted during his regime.

TRAINMEN LOOK FOR DEAD MAN; SEE HIM WALKING UP TRACK

After being struck by north bound passenger train No. 6 at Woods Run last night and thrown over the bank an unknown foreigner got up, got his hat and walked unconcerned away, as though nothing had happened. Meanwhile the train, which is due in Charleroi at 5:33 in the evening, stopped and trainmen and passengers hurried back to the scene of the accident. They expected to pick up the man's body in pieces, but saw him instead going up the track in the direction of his home.

PUBLIC DRINKING FOUNTAIN WANTED BY THE W. C. T. U.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the residence of Dr. C. C. Wright, of McKean avenue and called to order by the president. The regular routine business was disposed of after which a temperance round table was conducted by Mrs. F. C. Stahlman, which proved very instructive as well as interesting. A committee of four ladies was appointed to confer with the "city fathers" relative to the placing of a public drinking fountain in town, where any and every person may partake of pure mountain water—without money and without price.

Quite a goodly number of ladies were present and expressed themselves as not only willing but eager to put forth every effort to make this Magic City not only one of civic beauty, but one of morality and purity. After a highly animated session the Union adjourned to meet at the residence of Mrs. John Crawford at Lookout avenue, the first Tuesday evening of June.

CRUMRINE ELECTED

County Superintendent of Schools Chosen for Another Term

Prof. L. R. Crumrine of Washington was re-elected school superintendent of Washington county by a large majority at the directors' convention at the county seat Tuesday. The term is for three years. His only opponent was Charles P. McCormick, principal of the Bentleyville schools, one ballot being required to elect. The school directors unanimously voted to increase the superintendent's salary from $2,000 to $3,000 a year. Professor Crumrine is completing his first term of three years as county superintendent. The directors in a resolution endorsed County Superintendent Samuel Hamilton of Allegheny county for a place on the State Board of Education should the proposed new school code be passed by the Legislature.

North Charleroi Takes Precaution to Prevent Rabies

As a precaution against an epidemic of rabies among the dogs of North Charleroi, a dog quarantine will be enforced according to State law this summer. The board of health will have charge of the enforcement of the law, and they will be backed by the council. The law is to the effect that all dogs not having muzzles will be killed. Monessen is now in the midst of a crusade against dogs, owing the prevalence of hydrophobia there.

GAME DECLARED A DRAW AFTER THIRD INNING

With the thermometer registering anything but balmy spring weather, and the sun not shining a bit, the Washington Avenues and the Baptists played to a tie in three and a half innings in the first Church League game Tuesday evening. The score was 8 to 8 when the contest was called on account of darkness. Urwin was on the mound for the Washington Avenues with Walsh receiving. A. Mason and Boyd twirled for the Baptists and Capt. Herbert Mason was behind the bat.

Tonight the game postponed from Monday evening will be played between the Episcopalists and the Christians. A warm battle is anticipated.

ALL BOATS DOWN STREAM; QUIET ALONG THE RIVER

Things are rather quiet around the government yards at North Charleroi, with all the boats down river, and no important work going on. This week some skiffs and a flat for the Ohio river are being made. All the steamers which have headquarters at the yard are engaged on important work in the vicinity of Pittsburgh.

APRIL COAL TRADE GOOD ALONG RIVER

Report of Lock No. 4 Shows Steady Business For Month

SPECIAL SHIPMENTS MADE

Continuing good during the entire month, coal shipments totaled 15,962,000 bushels through Lock No. 4 during April. This ended one of the best periods in the coal trade for years. During the four months of this year there has been an increase over the trade of previous years for the same period.

During April 1,460 loaded craft passed down and 1,487 empties up. There were 701 lockages made down stream and 712 up. The rainfall was 4.30 inches, the biggest daily fall being on April 21, when there was half an inch of rain recorded.

The largest coal shipment of any day during April was on April 12, when 78,900 bushels passed through the lock. One shipment of a kind not often repeated at Lock No. 4 was 97,490 pit posts, brought up stream on boat bottoms, mostly consigned to Yesta mines. Sand shipments during the month totaled 184,000 bushels and gravel amounted to 51,000 bushels. During the first month of the year there was a total shipment of coal through Lock No. 4 of 70,775,000 bushels. This is an increase over a similar period for the past four years.

CHILDREN PLACED IN THE CARE OF CHILDREN'S HOME

By order of the Juneville court the three children of Mike Densing, aged respectively 11, 4 and 3 years, were committed to the Children's Home at Arden. Densing, who shot and seriously wounded his wife at their home up Maple Creek last week, is a fugitive from justice, and the woman is in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela, where she is likely to remain as a patient for some time to come. The children were taken to their destination today by Constable Stabeline.

Road Bills Expected to Pass Without Much Opposition

FIGHT ON SCHOOL CODE

Interesting Time Looked For as Result of Attempt at Amendment

(Special Correspondence)

Harrisburg, May 3.—Strenuous times are ahead in the final round-up of legislation at Harrisburg. While some of the "big bills" are scheduled for passage without serious opposition, such as the Sprout road bill, and possibly the bill to amend the constitution so as to issue $50,000,000 in bonds for State road improvements, others have struck a snag. The school code is arousing all sorts of opposition by the amendment providing for compulsory medical examination of all pupils both in and out of school. The initiative, referendum and recall idea for charters for big cities has been knocked "galley west," and an emasculated city charter bill has been proposed in lieu of the "Pittsburgh Plan" so ardently pressed by the reform element of the Smokey City.

Two liquor bills have been advanced to the stage where the sponsors are wavering as to whether to press them to a finish and put them up to the Governor for approval. One of these is the excise bill for a commission to grant license instead of the courts in certain counties of a specified population, and the other is for the State Treasurer to grant all brewery and distilling licenses. A bill to grant a license for every 750 inhabitants was killed Tuesday in the Senate.

As usual some "soakers" are rearing their heads in the bills that are being introduced in the final wind-up. One of these is a bill to give the county treasurers a rake off in commissions on the liquor licenses granted in counties where the treasurer is not paid a regular salary. As the treasurer of Washington county is popularly supposed to receive a compensation ranging from $8,000 to $10,000 a year the increase would help out some. Another bill provides for the construction of memorial halls at county seats. This would make another draft upon county funds in addition to free bridges and Flinn roads in Washington county if the bill passes.

Governor Tener's public utilities commission bill is still delayed in committee, but is expected to be reported out tomorrow. A hard fight is in prospect for this bill, but the Governor has the moral support of the masses in regard to it, and something will likely to drop if the measure is smothered in committee or defeated in the Senate.

Selfish?

The Monongahela Times intimates that the Mail is actuated by selfish motives when it registers a kick against the county commissioners paying politics with county road improvements, and tying up the resources so that other improvements—including a free bridge at North Charleroi—would be impossible for a long time to come. Perhaps the Mail is selfish in making this contention. Its action, however, is only in accord with the accepted policy of public expenditures.
The public will be taxed all the traffic will stand anyhow, and it is up to each community to get its share.
In this scramble Monongahela, herself, was not exempt, as the two-in-one bridge proposition there and the Dry Run road project will testify.
In these politics played an important part. Had business prudence dictated by a desire to look after the interests of the taxpayers, as well as the voters of Monongahela, prevailed, it is not likely the commissioners would have been flim-flamed into buying a discard which had to be replaced by a completely new structure in another location almost as soon as it was acquired.

However this is not to the point.
One mistake does not justify another.
A certain amount of money—an abnormally large sum—is likely to be expended for public improvements in one project. It is but natural that the communities affected should look after their interests. It is a noteworthy fact that the proposed new roads that the county commissioners are asking the grand jury to approve are in sections from whence delegations came asking for the improvements.
The commissioners are not breaking their necks to improve roads in sections where there has been no agitation for the same.

The proposed expenditures if made are bound to increase taxation or restrict further improvements of any magnitude. That is why Charleroi is registering a kick. A free bridge will save thousand of dollars annually to resident of Charleroi and North Charleroi, as well as to the business interests of the entire community, farmers and hucksters included.

Looking at the situation in one way it may be selfish on the part of Charleroi to object to being left out in the cold, but the community that does not fight for its rights and interests is the one that gets lost in the shuffle.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Charleroi people may yet have an opportunity to see a harem skirt in public. According to the Monessen News a pretty Roscoe school ma'am has one of these unmentionables, and as the trolley leads directly from Roscoe to Charleroi, the wearer and the garment are both likely to put in an appearance almost any evening.
It appears that one of these unmentionables was brought to Monessen more for exhibition purposes than anything else. The bifurcated garment was the object of much attention, but none of the Monessen male could be induced to try it on, even in the privacy of the store dressing room. Finally a Belle Vernon lass mustered enough courage to give a harem exhibition to the girls in the store, but that was as far as she would go. The surprise came when the garment was finally sold to the Roscoe school ma'am, and now the public—the feminine part—is agog with curiosity as to when the bifurcated garment will make its first appearance in public.

A good story is told in Harper's

"And I am Mrs. Harrington employer. "I am afraid I shall never be able to remember your name; it's so long. I shall call you John."

"All right," returned the China man. "Your name too longee, too.
I callas you Charley."

When the Great Adam Forepaugh

Charleroi on Saturday May 6 it will lic streets an entirely new feature sequence it depicts all the real splendor of the world's kingdoms from antidiluvian days on up to the fall of Rome.

A Venetian Fashion.

Fashions were no less eccentric four centuries ago than they are today.
"Before the streets of Venice were paved (in the thirteenth century)," says Mr. William Bouling in "Woman in Italy," "ladies went through the mud and slith on pattens. The custom was retained, and in spite of sumptuary laws the patten became lightened until women of rank stood on false feet half a yard high in the sixteenth century. They were unable to walk without the support of one or two gentlemen or servants."

A curiosity in banquets is mentioned by the same writer. It was a wedding feast at Milan and consisted of fifteen courses, "each being introduced by living specimens of the animals that composed it."

A Mighty Man.

Topham, the prince of English strong men, had knots of muscles where the arm pits are in the ordinary man. He could take a bar of iron one and one-half inches in diameter and five feet long, place the middle of it over the back of his neck and then force the ends forward until they met before his face. On one occasion he called upon a village blacksmith and made of him an everlasting enemy by picking up a number of horseshoes and snapping them in two as easily as if they had been pine sticks.

Climate Failed—Medicine Cured.

It has been abundantly shown that rest, fresh air, and good food do help many persons suffering from tuberculosis. But to be really honest, it must be admitted that the disease seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alternative is a medicine made for the cure of Tuberculosis. It has cured this disease again and again. Often these cures have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal, where no intelligent care was taken of the patient, where money was scarce, good food and good cooking unusual—yet cures resulted. Now we argue and urge that Eckman's Alternative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis in addition to good, nourishing food, and fresh air, which we all need.

The facts—the evidence of cures that have been made—are interesting reading.
A remarkable cure follows—Weldon, Ill.
Gentlemen: "Through Eckman's Alternative I have been saved from a premature grave, and, feeling that I might benefit suffering humanity, I take pleasure in writing you a brief history of my sickness, which you are at liberty to use.

On December 14, 1904, I was taken with typhoid pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected. My sputum was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli was found. On February 21st 1905, I was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas.
While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1st, and arrived in Canon City June 3rd very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that nothing could be done, as my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 165 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

On the 14th of July I began taking Eckman's Alternative for Consumption. It being very highly recommended. Today I weigh 155 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. I have not an ache nor pain in my lungs, eat well, sleep well, and never felt better.
I would be glad if every person afflicted with Tuberculosis took Eckman's cure."

GUARDING THE KING.

Old English Methods When the Monarch Was Taken Sick.

The law raises peculiar safeguards round the person of the English sovereign in case of sickness. They are mere survivals in the present settled order of government, but at one time the opportunity which the king's incapacity afforded aspirants to the throne or treason makers to shorten his days at a minimum of risk of detection made the precautions reasonable.

"If the king be taken sick," says Coke in his "Institutes," "there ought to be a warrant issue from the privy council, addressed to certain physicians and surgeons, authorizing them to administer to the royal patient poisons, syrups, laxatives, medicines, etc. Still, none of these should be given except by consent and advice of the council, and they ought to set down in writing everything done and administered, and they should compound all drugs themselves and not intrust their preparation to any apothecary."

Coke wrote thus of precedent in the year 1610, and today the law is practically as he found it, although at the present time in practice the privy council chiefly hears reports of the progress of the king's malady and leaves actual treatment entirely to the physicians in direct charge of the case.—Exchange.

GIANT TREES OF JAMAICA.

They Shed Masses of Beautiful Silk Cotton Every Year.

The silk cotton trees of Jamaica are one of the most striking natural features of this beautiful island, and visitors express much curiosity concerning them. The fiber of the cotton is too short for textile uses, but its quality is delicate and fine.

The trees are most interesting in structure. They reach a height of 200 or 300 feet. It is the largest tree on the island, and the branches often overhang more than an acre of ground. Some of them are centuries old, dating back to the landing of the Spaniards. They have withstood the tropical winds of the region through the adaptation of their structure. The leaves are very few, and there are heavy masses of roots.

This giant tree flowers once a year. It bears a number of pods much the size and shape of a cucumber. These pods dry and burst, and out floats the beautiful cream colored silk cotton, covering the ground and sailing in the air for some distance. The seeds, of course, are borne on the silky filaments. This cotton is used at present only for pillows. Its use as gun cotton has been spoken of.

The trees are often felled by the native Jamaicans and hewn into canoes, which last for generations.—Christian Science Monitor.

Some Task.

The office manager turned to the new boy.

"Here, George," he said, "go into the next room and look up—collaborate. I am not quite sure about the spelling."

The boy disappeared and didn't return. The manager put the letter aside and took up some other duties. Presently he remembered the boy and went out to look for him. He found the lad studying the big dictionary with great intensity.

"What are you doing, George?" he asked.

The boy looked around.

"I forgot the word you told me, sir," he replied, "an' I'm lookin' through the book to find it."

The manager gasped.

"How far have you got?"

"I'm just finishing the second page, sir."

"That'll do, George."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fixing the Lesson.

Parson Saunders was a little perturbed one Sunday morning over some worldly matter, and made a mistake in the reading of the Scriptural lessons. He read the second lesson where he should have read the first. As he neared the end of his reading the parson saw that he was in error. He saw that his congregation knew he was in error. How, then, to conclude? To conclude in the orthodox way—"here endeth the second lesson"—would hardly do, as it was not the second lesson, but the first. Nor, could it, on the other hand, be called the first lesson since properly it was the second? Parson Saunders, after a moment's thought, wisely and frankly concluded:

"Here endeth the wrong lesson."—New York Press.

Very Considerate.

"I suppose, Jennie, you wouldn't want to go to the concert Wednesday in your old hat?"

"You dear thing! I couldn't possibly think of showing myself in it."

"That's what I thought, so I—"

"What?"

"Bought only one ticket to the concert."—Meggendorfer Blatter.

The Aspet.

"The school board, the police board and the jail board are all in the lime-light at once for trouble."

"Yes, it certainly does seem as if our city public affairs were going by the board."—New York Journal.

The Harvest.

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny.—George D. Boardman.

Two friends have no solitary joy or sorrow.—Channing.

BATHTUBS IN MEXICO.

Made of Cement. They Are a Real Luxury in a Hot Climate.

"Unless you have been in the tropics," remarked the man who had just returned from a trip to Mexico, "you can't possibly realize how great a luxury a cold bath can be. It's not that the climate is necessarily warmer than a New York summer, but the natives have worked out the problem of bathing to its ultimate conclusions. They have invented the ideal tub.

"On the great private estates in Mexico baths are in use today which were hewn out of the solid rock centuries ago by slave labor. They are located for the most part in the vicinity of running water and are fed by bamboo pipes, but in many cases they have to be filled by the old fashioned method of carrying a bucket to and from the spring.

"In the cities the so called stone baths are made of cement. The residences of all well to do people are provided with them, and they are a feature of the native hotels. They are

Russia. Russia did not break into European history until comparatively recent times. Rurik, a Varenagian chief, seems to have been the first to establish a government, about 862. Rurik's descendants ruled amid many ups and downs till 1583, at which time the real history of the country may be said to begin. With the solitary exception of the United States of America, the progress of Russia under Peter the Great and Catherine II. is unequalled for rapidity in the history of the world.

Black Inhabitants of France.

Lying so much off the beaten track the village of Port Lesne, in the Jura department of France, is visited but few from the outside world, and consequently this tiny settlement has remained unknown. It is not a village, its inhabitants number only a few hundred, but every one is of copper colored. It is due to the fact that about 150 years ago the famous negro chief, Toussaint L'Ouverture, was brought from Haiti and imprisoned in Port de Joux.

He encamped near his little river at Lesne, and when his friends decided to free the passing of slaves and intermarriages have transformed the settlement into a French village of colored folk, all of whom are enfranchised.

New Cop Can't Find Anybody Breaking Law

North Charleroi is bound to be up-to-date and there is not going to be any disorder there if it can be helped. Something of this sentiment pervaded the minds of members of council a few days ago, when they concluded inasmuch as there had been reports recently of disorders in the town, to hire a policeman. Ed. Dowell was selected for the job. Dowell has now been on four days, and the lockup is still the vacuum it used to be so far as prisoners are concerned. The next conclusion will likely be that a cop is not needed, except as a deterrent to offenders.
